

ESCAPE THE ORDINARY

Author Program

The Bridgeton Public Library

Is offering a chance to meet

Kate Wyer

Saturday, July 25 from 2-4 pm

Kate Wyer, a local author, will speak about her book, Black Krim

When Corbina finds a man standing barefoot in a field across from her farmhouse, she makes a choice that will challenge every part of her lifestyle. Wyer's debut novel, BLACK KRIM, follows three characters, in alternating first-person narratives, as they uncover each other's motives and desires, as well as their own.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Kate Wyer lives and writes in the Baltimore area, attended Cumberland Regional High School, Goucher College, and earned her MFA from University of Baltimore. She also won the Women Writing About Women contest sponsored by the Mid-Atlantic Arts Foundation. Her work can be found in The Collagist, PANK, Keyhole, Wigleaf, Exquisite Corpse, and elsewhere. In addition to her writing, Wyer is the manager of a non-profit within the public mental health system.

Bridgeton Public Library

150 E. Commerce St.

Bridgeton, NJ 08302

(856) 451-2620

www.bridgetonlibrary.org

